

What is FUGE Camps?

The FUGE Camps brand of camps offers two programs: Centrifuge and MFuge. Both of these camp options are for students who have completed 6th grade through 12th grade.

Centrifuge

Students are placed into Bible study groups with students from other churches by age groupings: 6-8th, 9-10th and 11-12th. Each morning of camp, students, within their groups, participate in recreation that includes group-building initiatives, as well as quiet time and Bible study. In the afternoons, students choose special interest track times ranging from creative options such as drama and creative movement, to classroom tracks like spiritual gifts, to active tracks such as basketball and volleyball.

MFuge

Students are placed into ministry tracks based on their choice of ministry track options or you can choose to keep your group together. Bible study and work on ministry site happens within the ministry track groups. If you choose to keep your students together, a FUGE Camps staffer will be available to teach Bible study and lead on site. Ministry options include children's ministry, games and recreation ministry, painting, construction and yardwork ministry, social ministry which includes working in clothing closets and food pantries. Students have quiet time and Bible study each morning, do ministry track preparations and then leave campus to do hands-on missions in the community for up to four hours.

The evenings at camp consist of dynamic worship led by a camp pastor and worship band, church group time and Night Life, a large group activity.
